1)

Most business travellers (78%) enjoy their business trips for various reasons.

2)

I never had a business trip myself, so I'm unsure of all the formalities, but the overall experience seems to overlap with mine. Seeing the world and experiencing new cultures is the most fun part of travelling. Although I can understand people who find it tiresome, or just want to stay home, cause you spend enough time at work anyway. Travelling being boring is just part of a wrong mindset in my opinion. You can make every trip exciting, it just depends if you want to, or not.

Dear Visitor A/B,

I'm writing regarding our plans for your upcoming visit. First of all thank you for getting back to me with your preferences and requests. I was able to sketch out a schedule and attached it to this mail. If you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact me again.

Best wishes,
your guide
